Group Workshop options:

Red Stone Glen Fiber Arts Center is happy to host artist and makers from all over the globe for our amazing classes, but there is so much more to the Glen!

Situated on a beautiful 50 acre rural property we also have what we longing call the “Ridge”. A quaint home on the hill where makers can stay and play. In addition to being used for our regular student housing, we often host specialty groups for retreats.

It's not just for spinners and weavers. Do you have a lace makers group, a book club, birding club or even water color study group looking to get away we may be your perfect fit!

What we can offer your group

1

Open workshop spaces with room to configure to best suit your group, along with several smaller spaces for personal quiet moments.

2

Open, fully stocked kitchen. Plan pot luck dinners, or cater in, the kitchen is for your use. If you have questions regarding all available meal prep tools please do not hesitate to inquire.

3

Seating options for meals include a formal dining room, breakfast nook, kitchen bar for 4 as well as outdoor dining option on the rear patio.

4

Fully stocked with many different amenity options including folding tables, folding chairs, easel, white board, and multi-media hook-ups.

5

Additional tools and equipment available upon request from our studio stock such as ironing boards, sewing machines, hot glue guns, scissors and SO MUCH MORE. (supply list available upon request)

6

Take advantage of the outdoor spaces. Walking trails along the creek, meadow and forest. In warm weather spend time on one of the sitting porches or take a dip in the pool.

How do we book our retreat?

1

Start by designating a single representative for your group who will be responsible for all communications.

2

Choose a few dates that work for your group. It may be a weekend, several days or more if the space is available.

3

Contact our booking office to see if your chosen dates are available and complete the booking request paperwork.

4

To fully secure your reservation all paperwork must be received and a deposit of $500 must be paid.

5

30 days before your booking the remaining balance of your stay will be due.

6

Enjoy your stay!
